FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 27, 18[illegible]

Secession Convention

The self-entitled Democracy of Clark county, Washington Territory, held a Convention last Monday in Vancouver, to nominate suitable persons for standard bearers for Jeff. Davis in the approaching [illegible] election.

The Convention was held [illegible] was as ridiculous as it was disgusting. [illegible] the display of Union colors and [illegible] the protestations of attachment to the Government which these immaculate apostles of Democracy have been making of late, it was impossible for them to conceal the fact that the first question of soundness in that party is the question of loyalty to Jeff. Davis, and opposition to the Government of the United States. The assemblage was composed of all sorts and creeds of secessionists—secessionists from "all the kingdoms of the earth," having no sentiment in common, except a desire to encompass the destruction of our country, and an instinctive and thoroughly Democratic love of bad whisky. This latter characteristic exercised such an irresistible influence over the Convention, that one of the candidates before the body, had his Democracy questioned [illegible], on the ground that he drinks [illegible], and he would certainly have been defeated had not his competitor withdrawn.

Another manifestation of Pat[illegible] which prevailed in the Convention occurred in connection with the selecting of a candidate for County Auditor. When the candidate was proposed who finally received the nomination, a member doubtless having forgotten his orders, took the floor and objected bitterly to the proposed nomination, saying the candidate was not a Democrat, for he had said in the speaker's presence, that he was a Union man. Yet this speaker was a respectable member of the Democratic party and sent to represent the sentiment of that organization. Other persons who acted prominent parts in the proceedings have been known on divers occasions, to avow their allegiance to the rebel cause, and some of them have children not yet taken from the mother's breast bearing the traitorous name of Jefferson Davis.

But in order that the public may fully know what sort of gentry are about to ask for popular support, with the indorsement of this spotless faction, it will be well to make some specifications. Let it be remembered that by the first dispatches we received after the unfortunate affair at Bull Run the facts in the case, and especially our disasters, were greatly exaggerated, as subsequent intelligence discovered to us. On the arrival of the exaggerated account of the battle, the present nominee for Probate Judge on the secesh ticket got the paper containing the report and read the news in the presence of various persons. The reader was so overjoyed that he could not or did not refrain from bestowing hurrahs for the rebels, besides indulging in the most grossly offensive language concerning our army. And this he repeated whenever a statement occurred of any one of many acts of barbarism perpetrated by the rebels upon our troops. Their present nominee for [illegible] man being present, and [illegible] his usual cautiousness by the glorious news of rebel victory, said, at the close of the reading, by way of sanction, that he wished they had killed ten thousand Yankees [illegible] would close the war.

So much for the loyalty of [illegible] of the Clark County Democracy [illegible] for their candidates for Probate Judge [illegible] people of Clark County, citizens of the United States, what think you [illegible] men you would have [illegible] Are such the men you will [illegible] [illegible] laws of your country [illegible] short [illegible] false [illegible] dren and [illegible] that must be [illegible] to the history [illegible] the 14th day of July [illegible] ism, as the 2d [illegible] your sister [illegible] feat of [illegible] of a [illegible]

[illegible] public affairs and the prospects [illegible] father.

SOMETHING [illegible] AND [illegible]

[illegible]

Bar[illegible] from below arrive twice a week [illegible] [illegible] mining country [illegible] from fifteen to twenty thousand. The streets are filled with wagons and pack trains.

[illegible] PROSPECTS.

With rare exceptions business men are doing well. They say they have difficulty in getting their goods here, but [illegible] them. Out of [illegible] ten [illegible] all are doing well, with perhaps one or two exceptions. Stocks of goods are light. [illegible] Teams get from four to six [illegible] with a two horse [illegible] wagon [illegible] steady work and made from thirty to forty dollars per day, and his expenses were [illegible]. Among the leading houses [illegible] Ross, Demarest & Co., [illegible] Sutton & Co., W. H. A. Brown, [illegible] and Flashman. [illegible] Dempster & Co. perhaps do the largest business. They have a house in San Francisco, and in New York and London.

MARKET AND COST OF LIVING.

You pay one dollar a meal and seventy-five cents for a bed on the floor generally, or some other comfortable place. Flour is twenty-five dollars per hundred; bacon [illegible] beans, [illegible] whisky from $[illegible] to $5 per gallon; potatoes 20 a 25c; eggs, $1 per dozen; coffee [illegible] tea $1.25; butter $1, and other articles in proportion. [illegible] scarce and rising. [illegible] fresh beef from 18 to 25c, and mutton from 25 to 40c.

A CURE FOR [illegible]

This town in many of its features is emphatically a lively place. In the expressive phrase here "it is dangerous to be safe." [illegible] on the run, and if you have a mule you must take him to bed with you at night. After a brief experience I must say without complimenting anybody I have [illegible] [illegible] there shall be no more death, neither sorrow nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain. And yet just now this place is a terrible cure for such a fanciful [illegible]

I leave for Salmon to-day. We have [illegible] diggings and confidence in the mines is rather growing.

DAILY OREGONIAN [illegible] at the Front [illegible] Book Store, [illegible]

ALLING.—The waters of the Willamette still falling, and Front street is again al- free from water. By Monday next it is ipated that business will be resumed in all of the business houses down Front , which have now been closed for seve- weeks. Preparations are making for the ring of streets, and it is hoped that ere all will be put to rights and the in- e trade previously transacted by mer- ts and business men in that locality, again greet their establishments and en- ge their enterprise.

EFFECTS OF THE FLOOD.—A druggist of this had put up for him several bottles of A 1, fourth proof brandy, insured to be the ine article for medical purposes, by a in friend in the lower part of the city, e floors had been covered with water g the late flood. Having occasion to the brandy, yesterday, the druggist ed out a small quantity into an open ves- and upon touching a lighted match to it, ghted match immediately went out.

AMP MEETING.—A Camp meeting was enced yesterday, by the M. E. Church, grove near Forest Grove, Washington nty. We learn that a large attendance of pers are on the ground, and hopes are tained that the meeting will result in good.

OTHER CHANCE.—That beautiful Pano- , the "Tour of Europe," will be again exhibition to-night at the Theatre, and we ld recommend those who have not seen go and enjoy the sight, as it will repay time and trivial expense.

. S. Richardson has been appointed by rnor Stanford a Commissioner of Deeds California, to reside in Portland, Oregon.

From Florence City.

have been permitted to make the wing extracts from a private letter writ Dr. Hawthorne to Dr. Loryea of this which will doubtless prove interesting to of our readers, as Dr. Hawthorne is well throughout Oregon and California, and e writes will be taken as strictly true:

"FLORENCE CITY, June 15th, 1862.

The weather here is very disagreeable, been raining for the last three weeks ud and water is dominant in every nook rner. It is thought that 3000 persons left this vicinity within the past few r new diggings which are reported to been discovered some fifty or sixty miles east from here. I have no doubt of the of this discovery, as several of my s have left very rich diggings here to go and what they say is very satisfactory ce to my mind. I also hear of other gs having been struck over towards river, and think they will prove good. I consider this a very rich gold field, qual to California in '49, in many re- although on a smaller scale as yet. I ot been here long enough to inform my- articularly in regard to the gulches, &c., district, but have learned enough to my mind that this camp is as rich or than any I have seen in California. any from Portland are here, and some have good claims. Leland has a claim; his daily receipts, after paying penses, are something over $100. Wm. also has a rich claim and he takes out than Leland. It is astonishing how some of the claims are. The reports you seen in the papers and heard told are correct. New diggings are bound to discovered and good ones too, and in my n, any man who will try, can do better re than below, if he has to depend upon bor for a living."

To ARMS."—The Herald and Mirror says: ptain Dowling, a member of the famous -ninth New York regiment, has been au- ed to raise a company of infantry, eigh- n, for service in the first regiment of in- y in Washington Territory. He has al- received his commission from Lieut. English. The principal recruiting station be in this city.

ILL NOT STAND IT ANY LONGER.—The phis Avalanche says: "The indignan will not much longer brook the daily gs and foul insults inflicted by Northern rds." This is like the aggrieved gentle- who thus addressed his foe: "Sir, you cuffed my ears, slapped my face, kicked violently, kissed my wife, and knocked down; and I warn you if you continue in course of conduct, you will rouse the ing lion!"

The temperance voters of Maine, who num 40,000, and are able to control every elec- n, request the Legislature to prohibit the of ale, lager beer, etc. If the request is ied, they threaten to elect men next year will do it.

Resolutions had been adopted, after consid- ble opposition, by a meeting held in Ash- under-Lyne, England, calling on the tish Government to recognize the indepen- of the South.

Letter-writers from the army say that the d prisoners express the strongest dislike South Carolina. Especially is this true Virginians. The South Carolinians, from rst, have put Kentuckians and Tennes- in the very front rank of the battle.

mettes No. 1.—Special Meeting of [illegible] (Friday) evening, at 8 o'clock.

By order of the President.

RICHARD B. KNAPP, Sec'y.

From John Day's River.

OTTER BAR, June 10th, 1862.

[illegible]

Thinking it might be interesting [illegible]

We [illegible] traveling two days we came [illegible] falls, where we found [illegible] a little to the right, and traveled over a rough country, still without any trail, for two days more, when we came [illegible] which empties into John Day's. We were compelled to remain there three days on account of a snow storm. One day's travel brought us to the river, about ninety-five miles below the cabins. From there up, our progress was very slow and fatiguing. The river being high the trail was in many places under water. We were then compelled to hunt a way as best we could along mountain sides and over points where it was difficult and often dangerous. The ground was quite miry in places, and very fatiguing to our animals. We saw no Indians after leaving Rock creek, nor any sign of them; however, we guarded them every night. In a few days we came to the camp where the first five of Woodard's party were killed last winter. We found strong evidences of the horrid murder, arrows scattered all around the camp, and one arrow-point was sticking in the tree under which the party slept. Some thirty of these arrows were picked up. Several bones were picked up some distance from camp; among them was the upper jawbone of a man. The same day we came to where the second party of five were murdered. At the place where Woodard was shot we found the upper arm bone of a person, but nothing else.

We arrived at Otter Bar May 25th, and found the cabins and caches undisturbed, but a considerable portion of the provisions was damaged by dampness.

A little now about the mines. The river is much too high to tell anything at all about the bars, and probably will be for a month to come. There is not any gold in the gulches, and the prospects we obtained in the banks were not very flattering. Mr. Morse and myself washed with a common rocker about three hundred buckets of dirt out of the same bank that the party prospected in last winter, and we obtained $2,10. One piece weighed thirty cents, but the most of it was fine float gold. Other prospects were not so good. A man with a rocker cannot make more than $1,50 per day, but by sluicing ordinary wages can be made for a short time, for it is a well ascertained fact that the pay dirt is shallow. But it is the unanimous opinion of experienced miners that the bed of the river and the bars are very rich, and will pay well for working in the fall. A prospecting party of sixteen have just returned from up the river, and report nothing better up there than here.

Our company, 21 persons, were the first to arrive here. Since then other companies have come in: one of 12 men, another of 14; a party from Powder river, and a company of 62 from California. The last had one of their men drowned in the river below here. There will be a general shaking out from here now, though a few may remain.

The river is falling rapidly. If anything of interest transpires I will let you know.

Ye have [illegible]
The good old time when we were all together.

Our limbs were [illegible]
We never [illegible]
Nor [illegible]
The brave old time when [illegible] together.

Pleasant it was to [illegible]
Sweet was the pure and [illegible]
And pleasant all, but [illegible]
The good old time when we were all together.

Since then I [illegible]
[illegible] in the [illegible]
And [illegible]
But never the time that we have [illegible] together.

And [illegible]
[illegible]
That walked [illegible]
The good old [illegible] time when we were all together.

Long since we parted [illegible]
Like summer birds [illegible] shall listen [illegible]
[illegible]
The sweet spring time that [illegible] all together.

Some to the [illegible] city [illegible] and [illegible]
And some [illegible] distant [illegible] whither
Nay we shall never [illegible] in the [illegible]
The dear old time when we were all together.

And some—alas! their heads [illegible]
Your [illegible] the grasses [illegible] and wither
Ay, we shall meet — 'tis but a little time!
And all shall meet with [illegible] hands together.

And if, beyond the sphere of [illegible]
[illegible] purer lands—ah! [illegible] our steps be [illegible]
That, done with earthly change and earthly time
In God's good time we may be all together.

— From the [illegible]

Those Christians who are most strenuous in things of little importance, are like the Pharisees of old, most likely to fail in the weightier matters of law. It is those who are yielding in non essentials who are most apt to be stable fundamentals. The willow will bend to the blast, yet keep its root in the ground, while the sturdy pine, proudly opposing its unbending trunk to the storm, falls often at the root.—Bishop Griswold

There is a certain spiritual indelicacy in persons who cannot perceive that not everything which is a matter of experience and knowledge is, therefore, a subject of conversation. There are some things in the world too low to be spoken of, and some things too high. You cannot discuss such subjects without vulgarizing them.

The man once accused goes forth into society never the same as before; he keeps his position, he practices his profession, his friends know him to be true and honest, but for years after, the oblivious world, remembering only the accusation and forgetting the fullness of the refutation, askes, "But were there not some suspicious circumstances?"

"Manners," says Sidney Smith, "are the shadows of virtue, the momentary display of those qualities which our fellow creatures love and respect. If we strive to become, then, what we strive to appear, manners may often be rendered useful guides to the performance of our duties."

A western editor thus compliments a cotemporary: What a piece of work is Bartlett! how feeble in reason, in form and moving how like a sneak; how stupid in faculties, in action how like a spaniel, in comprehensiveness how like a frog!

'Tis not when the summer flower
Blushes brightest in its bloom,
That around the vine-clad bower
Floats most richly its perfume;
But when withered, crushed, and broken,
Fading—perishing it lies,
Sweetest voicings sadly spoken
From those dying petals rise.

The highest charity is to pay liberally for all things had or done for you; because to underpay workmen, and then be bountiful, is not charity. On the other hand, to give when by so doing you support idleness, is most pernicious. Yet you cannot refuse to give a street alms, if your charity has no other channel; you would feel that refusal in such a case was a mere pretext to save your money. But if your wealth is wisely and systematically given, then the refusal of idle appeals does no harm to the heart.

It is easier to gain credit for goodness by a glistening eye, while listening to some story of self sacrifice, than by patient usefulness.—It is easier to get credit for spirituality by thrilling at some impassioned speech on the platform or sermon from the pulpit, than by living a life of justice, mercy and truth.

A Quaker makes pleasure of his business and then for relaxation, makes a business of his pleasure.

Of all diseases the first great cause
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws

To the Afflicted:

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret diseases—Self Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Strictures, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, Diseases of the Kidney and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ankles, diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitus Dance—and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Disease, Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment, even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines [illegible] without odor [illegible] vegetable, causing no sickness and free from mercury or balsam. During fifteen years of practice in Europe the Atlantic States and [illegible] rescued from the jaws of death many thousands who in the last stages of the above mentioned diseases [illegible] by their physicians [illegible] to the afflicted, who may place themselves under my care a perfect and permanent cure. [illegible] the greatest [illegible] health [illegible] to the [illegible] family. [illegible]

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief

[illegible]

might I [illegible] involuntary discharges have all disappeared, and in fact in two months after having consulted the doctor I felt as if inspired by a new life—that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand. With the view to guard the unfortunate from falling into the snares of incompetent quacks I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr. Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured by my own experience, that one under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected.

MARYSVILLE, June 3d, 1860.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco—Sir: I have used the last of your medicine and do not think I shall need any more as I feel very well except that I have not entirely [illegible] strength [illegible] with the appetite I have. It is just three weeks [illegible] since I called at your institute, with my constitution as I thought, broken entirely [illegible] I would be able to cure me perfectly [illegible] able to do something to ease the pain in my back and head and strengthen my [illegible] so that I would [illegible] tired and trembled at everything. Now that you know what I expected, you may judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery from those symptoms and the [illegible] of those sores and blotches from my skin and the ulcers from my throat and the distressing [illegible] of those causes which were principally the cause of my sickness. I can hardly tell you which is the greatest joy [illegible] except not having fully got my strength. I feel as well as any man can feel.

Inclosed I send you twenty dollars over your charge, and think myself cheaply cured. If you think anybody will be benefited you may put this letter in the newspapers. Respectfully yours THOMAS HAYDEN.

Thankfulness is the incentive to gratitude.

CERTIFICATE.—[illegible] by an honest desire of my heart, I wish [illegible] which deserves commendation [illegible] scientific skill, but that of humanity also. About two years ago I suddenly, and from causes unknown to me, was seized with a fit of epilepsy, which owing to my inability to meet the expenses [illegible] treatment, and the discouragement which I met with on attempting it soon became what was then held to be [illegible] the skill of any physician. I was frequently while in pursuit of my calling, thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning [illegible] despised the [illegible] upon those the [illegible] my life [illegible] from danger [illegible] my affliction [illegible] recommendation, called [illegible] of my circumstances, [illegible] my case, and with [illegible] restored to perfect health [illegible] I consider it [illegible] the case, public, [illegible] find a physician [illegible]
